Hello all.

This will be my 3rd email to the entire congregation.

This Virus and the implications from it, continue to impact us and change the way we are living.

I want to share with you now, the latest news for our church.

All church services and events are now cancelled until further notice from me.

This takes us past the latest date of March 22nd.

Please help call people that may not have email or a computer in order that all in our church will know this latest news.

As a church we all can share in the flow of information.

I am so glad that we created a new email information list last year!

You will receive more correspondence from me when we will resume worship and activities.

So, where does this leave us?

Well, with opportunity for a great many things.

This is true for our church too.

Even though these are hard times, please know that there are new things going on at our church.

1) We have created a brand new YouTube channel.

It is called - Center Presbyterian Church in SR

This will now allow our church to broadcast our worship services so they can be watched at home. This will even be a needed resource when this crisis is over. Recording the video of our services is something we should be doing. This builds and enhances the audio recording we just started last Fall.

Be patient with the quality and content as we are just beginning.

2) I also will continue to send out a weekly correspondence to the church family using email. Again, a weekly message can only help our church at all times. This will include a devotion.

3) Here is more good news. We have people that have volunteered to do grocery runs or other errands in the event of a need. Praise God!

Contact us if you need this new and special ministry!

Please know that we are planning on sending out our next Newsletter for April as well.

Please continue to call and email me with any concerns or needs. I would love to hear from you even if you would just like to say hello.

I am also available on Facebook as well.

(You can always reach me in a great number of ways)

Lastly, Lorrie is in the process of forwarding any phone calls to the church to her home, in the event that we are placed on further lockdown or restrictions.

I encourage you to continue reading your Bibles, praying and contacting your church family and friends.

This is also a time for creative thinking and even brainstorming about future new ideas that we could include in our worship and ministry.

Is there something you have always wanted to spend time on pertaining to the church? This could be that time.

Have you ever read all 4 Gospels?

Have you ever listened to KLOVE FM Radio 98.3 and listened to the power in the lyrics?

There are many new ways to communicate that do not require being in the same room. "Zoom Internet" meetings are now very popular. I have been participating in these as I work with the Presbytery.

Friends, these times will pass.

Please know that God is still in control.

Pray for me and each other!

I think of you all and pray each day for so many things.

I love you, and I will see you very soon.

God bless you and see you in church when this is over!

And it will be over one day!
